Tom Streller - Director & Editor

Tom came to filmmaking in a self-taught way. With a background in music production and skateboarding videos, the Leipzig-based creative naturally started out in music videos and content production, where he found his bold and visual style of storytelling.

In the commercial film industry, his approach fits perfectly with technology and lifestyle films, where he emotionally charges products with his highly dynamic visuals.

Tom takes a unique, multidisciplinary approach to each project, creating his concepts with a deep knowledge of production processes, cinematography techniques and post-production workflows. His flexible way of working fits perfectly with current industry trends and allows him to develop exciting worlds and stories, regardless of the scope of a project.
